

LOCATION INTELLIGENCE COURSE OPPORTUNITIES UNT GEOGRAPHY

Geographic Thinking for Organizations of All Kinds

The Location Intelligence coursework offered by UNT Geography and the Environment is for students who want to prepare to make a deep and meaningful impact on the management of the modern, global economy. Courses in the area provide students with a path to develop spatial thinking and technology skills that lead to great careers in applied geography.

GEOG 3100: US & Canada
GEOG 4195: Geospatial Data*
GEOG 4220: Applied Retail
GEOG 4230: Business GIS
GEOG 4580: GIS in Health*

* LI-related courses offered by other UNT GEOG Faculty

UNT

GEO

Department of Geography
and the Environment

Questions? Contact Dr. Murray Rice (murray.rice@unt.edu) or visit www.murrayrice.com and see the teaching page

LEARN GEOSPATIAL SKILLS TO GUIDE DECISION-MAKING

ISSUE-FOCUSED BUSINESS & REGIONAL CASE STUDIES

SITE & MARKET ANALYTICS

BUSINESS GIS LABS & PROJECTS

REAL-WORLD, INDUSTRY-
SPONSORED CLASS RESEARCH

www.murrayrice.com/teaching.html